WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear SARCD Delegates,

It is with great pleasure and honour that we welcome you to the 13th South Asian Regional Conference of Dermatology (SARCD XIII) 2025, hosted by IADVL Karavali in association with IADVL KN and IADVL National, in the vibrant coastal city of Mangaluru.

Building on the success of SARCD XII held in Colombo, we are delighted to host SARCD XIII. The SARCD serves as a vital academic forum for dermatologists from SAARC countries to exchange ideas and disseminate knowledge on contemporary dermatological topics.

SARCD 2025 will be held from May 2nd to 4th 2025, at the TMA Pai International Convention Centre, Mangaluru, Karnataka. This is the third time Mangaluru is hosting a national dermatology conference, following the successes of DERMACON 2015 and MIDDERMACON 2021. Mangaluru, a prosperous port city on India's west coast, is known for its multi-linguistic culture, scenic beaches, and diverse cuisine.

The theme of the conference is "Skin in Shadows: Spotlight on Neglected Tropical Diseases." Attendees will benefit from the insights and experiences of distinguished speakers from SAARC countries and specialists worldwide. The conference promises a unique opportunity for learning, interaction, and growth. We guarantee an academic feast including exclusive sessions on neglected tropical diseases, aesthetic dermatology, and procedural dermatology. Dermatology in Internal Medicine, Pediatric Dermatology, Therapeutic Dermatology, Leprosy, Venereology, and Dermatopathology will also be prominently featured. Exciting sessions of paper and poster presentations by postgraduate students, engaging quiz competitions for practitioners and postgraduates will be held. Separate award sessions for case reports and original studies, as well as faculty dinners and banquets featuring a cultural extravaganza are planned.

We expect 2500 delegates from India and SAARC Countries such as Sri Lanka, Indonesia, Maldives and USA to participate in this academic meet. International League of Dermatological Societies (ILDS) President, Prof Henry W. Lim has been invited to grace the Inaugural ceremony of this prestigious conference.

The trade exhibition will be held in an exclusive exhibition hall at the TMA Pai International Convention Centre. We invite sponsors to support this scientific program, offering an ideal opportunity to showcase products and engage with medical professionals from across India. Your enthusiastic involvement will significantly contribute to the success of this event.

Please confirm your sponsorship at your earliest convenience to be listed as an event sponsor in the conference brochure. We believe this conference will further strengthen the enduring friendship among regional dermatological associations.
